

OBSERVANCE OF BODO THUNLAI SHAAN (BODO LITERARY DAY) 2025

Organized by Aronai College, Kokrajhar

Jointly hosted by Literary Society & Department of Bodo, Aronai College, Kokrajhar

Date: 16-11-2025

On 16th November, 2025, the 74th Bodo Thunlai Shaan (Bodo Literary Day) was joyously celebrated, bringing together members of the community in a vibrant display of intellectual and cultural significance. The esteemed Bodo Department and Literary Society, Aronai College, Kokrajhar collaborated to host this remarkable event. The event was well-attended by both faculties and students from the department and the respective societies.

The event kick-started with the floral tribute by the Principal, faculties and students to mark the day. Smti. Hiramayee Basumatary, Secretary, Literary Society, Aronai College, Kokrajhar delivered the welcome address, highlighting the program of 74th Bodo Thunlai Shaan (Bodo Literary Day) 2025. Shri Bijit Kumar Basumatary, Assistant Professor & Head, Dept. of Bodo, Aronai College, Kokrajhar, delivered the keynote address, providing insights about the founding of the Bodo Sahitya Sabha (BSS), a milestone in the preservation and development of Bodo language and literature. Shri Meher Daimary, Principal, Aronai College, Kokrajhar, delivered a compelling speech on the significance of literature in today's era of globalization. He also stressed the importance of "Bibar Laisi" (Bibar Magazine) which was the first magazine published by the Bodo Students' Union marking a key moment in Bodo literature. Smti. Papori Dutta Borah, Joint Secretary, Literary Society, Aronai College, Kokrajhar shared concluding remarks on the significance of the Bodo language and its cultural importance.

The day's event culminated in an engaging literary competition among students such as short story writing, poem writing and debate aimed at fostering linguistic pride and encouraging young learners to engage with Bodo literature. The day came to a delightful close with a vibrant cultural program presented by the students.

Principal

Aronai College, Kokrajhar

Photos

